Full Stack Java Developer

- ✦ The healthcare system project is an all-encompassing application aimed at optimizing healthcare management through the use of modern technologies.
- ✦ The backend is developed using Spring Boot, providing a solid framework for RESTful APIs and efficiently managing CRUD operations and Spring security.
- ✦ The frontend is crafted with ReactJS, delivering a dynamic and responsive user interface that significantly improves user experience.
- ✦ Oracle DB is employed for dependable and scalable data storage, ensuring the secure and consistent handling of healthcare data.
- ✦ The integration of Spring Boot, ReactJS, and Oracle DB results in a unified system that facilitates efficient healthcare administration and enhances user interactions.

Achievement

- ✦ Successfully adapted to a high-pressure project environment with a significant workload and tight deadlines by quickly understanding complex requirements and efficiently managing tasks. Collaborated effectively with team members, prioritized tasks strategically, and contributed to the timely completion of critical milestones. Received recognition from the tech lead for my dedication and positive impact on the project's progress, ultimately helping the team meet its objectives.
